

Training for the chemicals contact person

Neosys AG

Belchenstrasse 3
CH-4600 Olten

+41 32 674 45 11
info@neosys.ch
www.neosys.ch

Companies that handle hazardous chemicals professionally or commercially are obliged under Article 25 of the Chemicals Act to appoint a chemicals contact person. The chemicals contact person serves as a central point of contact for questions relating to chemicals legislation and acts as a link between the company and the cantonal enforcement authorities. In certain cases, a notification to the authorities is required.

The chemicals contact person must have an overview of the legal requirements and work to ensure that operational processes, in particular the storage, handling and disposal of hazardous substances, comply with the legal requirements.

As the chemical contact person does not require a mandatory specialist license, it is the responsibility of the company to ensure that they receive appropriate training.

Our training ensures that your chemical contact person

- knows and fulfills the legal requirements,
- increases operational safety by minimizing risks,
- acts as a competent interface to the authorities,
- ensures the legally compliant handling of chemicals.

And deals with the following topics

- Basics of chemicals legislation: overview of the most important regulations and responsibilities.
- Tasks of the chemicals contact person: role, responsibilities and accountabilities.
- Storage of hazardous substances: Legal requirements and best practices
- Safe handling of chemicals: protective measures, risk minimization and operational implementation.
- Reporting obligations: When and how the contact person must inform authorities.

The training is aimed at

- Chemicals contact persons in accordance with the Chemicals Act
- All employees who handle hazardous substances
- Responsible for operational safety and environmental protection measures

Organizational details

- Location: Directly at the company location
- Duration: approx. half a day
- Participants: Up to eight people at no extra cost
- Certificate: Certificate of attendance for all participants

With our training, you are optimally prepared for your tasks as a chemicals contact person. Contact us for an individual consultation. We will be happy to support you in implementing the legal requirements!

Your contacts

Elvira Goloda

elvira.goloda@neosys.ch

+41 32 674 45 59

