Do you have enough human resources to look after your management system?

As external management system administrators, we maintain your system in compliance with the relevant standards and according to joint agreements.

Management system support

On request, we can support your employees with the entire expertise of Neosys AG on issues relating to the environment, occupational safety, chemicals, sustainability and compliance.

A clear division of tasks and the definition of contact persons ensure successful cooperation. The scope of our services is therefore discussed in detail at a joint meeting.

The confidentiality of internal information is a matter of course for us and can be contractually regulated on request.
